Hello, my name is Nutt, I'm 13 years old, I'm from Thailand. I heard that in Australia have a big wildfire or a bush fire that is under control in New south wales, Victoria and others place cause by people and the dry environment.

I wish the fire will calm down as soon as possible, Although I couldn't do anythings to help like donate but I still send you a encouragement to cheer up you but I promise when I grow up I will help as many as I could. Keep up the good work.

Hello people from Australia. I feel really sad about the bush fires situation in New South Wales because it have my favorite animal that some of it still alive and some of it are death and I've heard that Over 5.5 million hectares are burned and More than 1400 homes are destroyed. Hope you can pass this bad situation and hope you can save alot of animals that are still in the bush fires situation.

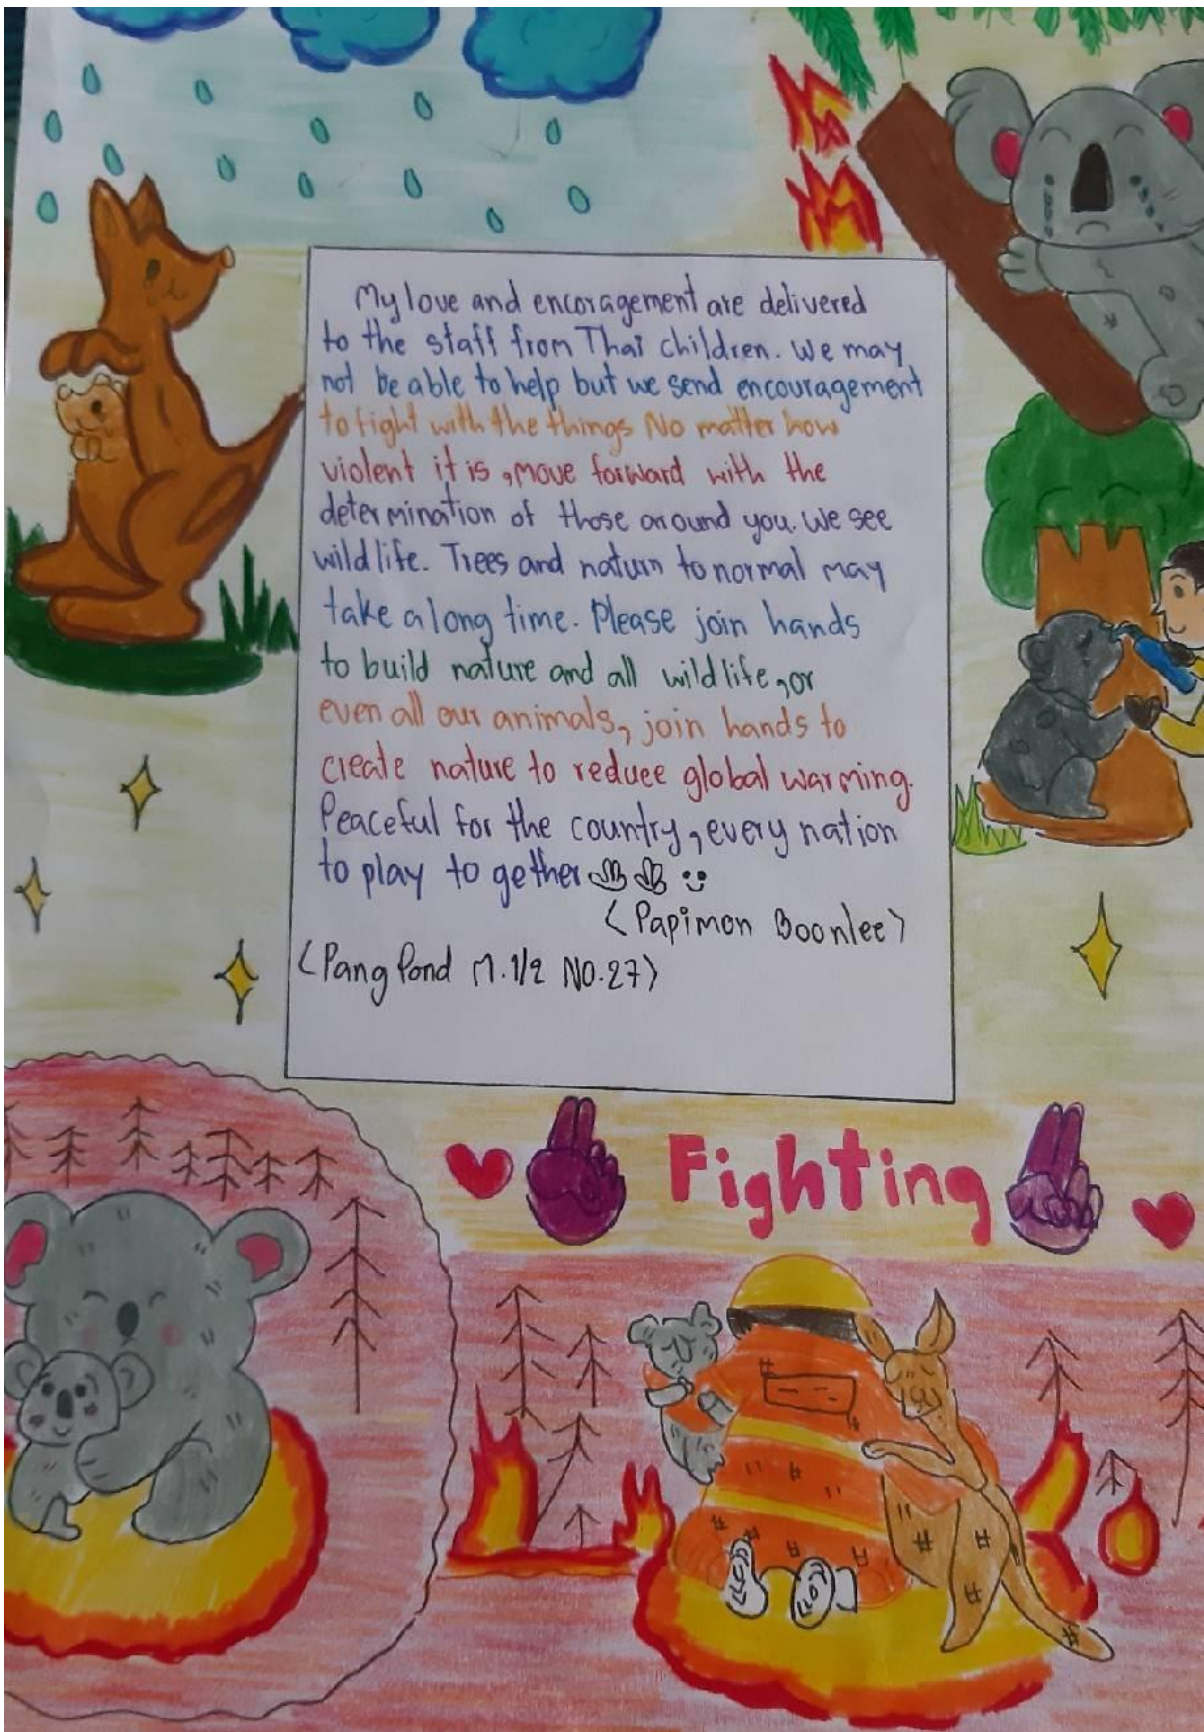

I have heard of the Australian Bushfires I have feelings of regret and pity for those who have lost the deaths of millions of wild animals and see the efforts of all firefighters, which should not happen at all. As I am a human friend supporting victims of the disaster Every animal and firefighter who sacrifices-I have relatives near the scene but not harmed but always encouraging and caring. And finally, I hope you all get good things. Let the fire calm down quickly. Like a sentence where "Every problem has a solution"

Pray for Australia
We can do it

My love and encouragement are delivered to the staff from Thai children. We may not be able to help but we send encouragement to fight with the things No matter how violent it is, move forward with the determination of those around you. We see wild life. Trees and nature to normal may take a long time. Please join hands to build nature and all wild life, or even all our animals, join hands to create nature to reduce global warming.
